Hancock Planning Commission Warns Jourdan River Developers

Precautions Urged By Mosquito Commission

Two types of mosquito plague the coastal regions of Mississippi, according to Chris Elmore, director of Mosquito Control Commission for the areas of Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties.

To combat these pests a combination of equipment and methods is employed including the familiar "fogging machine" that makes its rounds every month or six weeks on conditions warrant, a plane carries a drag-line that has been obtained from NASA to open up ditches and clear drainage areas.

There is little that an individual citizen can do to combat the salt-marsh mosquito which breeds in the open marshlands and rides air currents into residential areas. For these "marsh" mosquitoes a pest control plane flies over the breeding grounds spraying chemical pellets and many mosquitoes are killed in the larval stage.

Spring rains, open drain ditches, and so called "back-yard breeding spots" bring out the fresh water mosquitoes and there are quite a few things every citizen can do to cut down on the misery caused by these insects. Little ornamental ponds on the lawn, tin cans, or anything that holds water around the property can be a happy breeding ground for these mosquitoes. Developers are urged to inspect their property and get rid of any vessels in the yards that can hold water, they should either check their small ponds or fountains with fish or pour bromine or diatom oil over the water to discourage breeding. Sprays and repellents are also effective to come on. The opening of clogged ditches and drains is extremely effective. A n d well-kept screens for dwellings add security. "For this time of the year the infestation of fresh water mosquitoes is about normal," said Elmore.

Places such as Pearlinton, Anclay, Lelachere and Clomont Harbor are especially vulnerable where the salt-marsh mosquito is concerned. Pearlinton, for example, is practically surrounded by marshlands and lies adjacent to Louisiana boundary line. Louisiana marsh mosquitoes breed and drift into the area. Because of these existing conditions, Elmore says, more effort to control is concentrated on these locations. An attempt is made to fog all areas on an average of once a month or at least every six weeks, depending on conditions. In addition a plane covers the expanse of the marsh lands with a view to killing mosquitoes yet in the larva stage.

Following Hurricane Camille the Federal Government provided additional funds for plane spraying much of the area, and Elmore says applications have been made in hopes that the government will again meet the needs of the area in combating these pests. During the summer months the salt-marsh mosquito problems are more pronounced and Elmore says every effort will be made to get additional Federal Funds to combat the anticipated onslaught. The mosquito problems depend largely on the weather, poor drainage, and standing water.

To aid in the fight, NASA has put a drag line at the disposal of the Pest Control Commission which will, of course, pick up the tab for operational expenditures. The drag line will be used primarily to open up ditches in the coastal areas where the problem is more pronounced. Elmore says the Mosquito Control Commission, of necessity, must spread its activities pretty thin for the area to be served is rather large.

Generator Installed At GHG

A new generator capable of providing sufficient electrical energy for all necessary facilities at the Hancock General Hospital was installed this week, according to H. J. Blackledge, manager of that institution. Power from the generator is not ample for the operation of all air conditioning, however, Blackledge said the hospital can now meet emergency requirements.

To further safeguard the community, a resident physician will remain on duty on Saturdays and Sundays. This added precaution seemed advisable since Blackledge said more accidents occur on the weekends due to boating mishaps, oyster-shell fest, and the added number of weekend visitors who come to the area to swim, back, fish, etc. Staff physicians for emergency on-call duty rotate during the week days and the nursing staff is well trained in first aid measures.

Landscaping of the hospital grounds and re-decorating of some of the rooms is now underway. Blackledge said the rooms have been repainted and work is progressing satisfactorily.

There have been a "moderate" number of patients in the hospital during the last two weeks which makes possible the hospital without inconvenience to patients.

Applications are still being accepted for the Practical Nursing Training Classes. Blackledge said 17 applications are on file. Before applications are accepted the applicant is required to pass the Stanford Aptitude tests given through the State Employment Office.

Particularly high praise was given by Feld to the branch of the Gulf National Bank who provided office space at absolutely no charge for the more than nine months SBA operated its Disaster Office at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

Feld's praise also included the bank employees who suffered personal inconvenience because of crowded conditions. During this time SBA had as many as fifteen staffers operating from the bank at one time. Feld said that SBA could not have made the loans worth $12,526,743 had it not been for the wonderful patience and cooperation shown by everyone.

SBA To Close Local Office

The Small Business Administration today gave formal notice that it will close its Bay St. Louis Disaster Loan Office on May 30, 1970.

The office was opened after August 18, 1969, when Hurricane Camille, brought widespread devastation to the Mississippi and Louisiana Gulf Coast area.

George A. Feld, regional director, from Jackson, Mississippi, who heads SBA's Operations on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, said that loan applications had fallen off sharply in the last few days.

He said that last week very few applications were filed, and only a small number of persons visited the office seeking information.

"Any person who for one reason or another has been unable to complete his loan application should make an effort to do so as quickly as possible," said Feld.

He gave assurances, however, that the SBA Office in Gulfport will remain open to handle applications from persons who may not be able to file before the office is closed.

Feld said he was highly gratified with the response of local citizens, businessmen, bankers, city and county officials who have all been so helpful and cooperative.

Developers of the Jourdan River Shores Subdivision are hounded for deep trouble, warned Wayne Allison, Hancock County Health official, at a special meeting called by the Hancock County Planning Commission which convened last Thursday. Allison said: "Unless the developers comply with both State Air and Water Pollution Board requirements and also meet the approval of the Hancock County Sanitation Board appropriate action will be taken to protect citizens of this area against health hazards and nuisance."

Dave Johnson, a member of the commission, directed questions to Bud S. Broadway, engineer for the Jourdan River Shores development, and the only representative of that corporation to appear at the hearing. Questions hinged specifically around the reported sale of lots in the subdivision prior to actual provisions of facilities such as a community water supply and sewerage disposal system. Broadway readily admitted that he was not prepared to answer many of the questions put to him by members of the commission but said: "The developers do not want to pollute the Jourdan River and the Bay and create a health hazard. They plan this development to be something both they and you can be proud of."

Wayne Ducomb of Boat 4 displayed an advertisement which had appeared in the Times Picayune and in which the developers claimed a coverage system, community water supply and paved streets. James Foster expressed concern for protecting the investments of citizens and said: "I am shocked that lots are being sold before the development has been completed and approved."

Ray Bantor, chairman of the Planning Commission, asked for information concerning the paving specifications for the streets and said: "Hancock County will eventually have to keep up and maintain these streets."

There is a now at least one residence and a sales office on the Jourdan River Shores Subdivision, and the home owner get his water from a well he installed and he uses a septic tank for waste disposal. Allison said: "Ninety per cent of the Jourdan River Shores Development is subject to flood with a maximum 8 foot elevation and no where on that location will septic tanks operate." Sternly Allison declared: "There aren't going to be any septic tanks in Hancock County any more, unless previous application is made and approval granted by the Sanitation Board."

It was brought out that no official plat on the development has been filed and Rublo Griffin, attorney for the commission said: "The plat cannot be filed until the things shown on the plat have been done." Presently the map shows only a pencilled-in proposed location for the coverage disposal plant and the water supply system. Broadway stated the developers had gotten approval from the State Board of Health for the water system. He said he felt their problems were "minor" and that the developers would comply with the necessary requirements. He also said some streets were paved and that no under-street coverage lines had been placed. He felt that when the "density" of the population required the coverage system lines could be placed.

The concern of the members of the Hancock Planning Commission was expressed in a unanimous vote following a motion made by Dave Johnson and quoted as follows:

WHEREAS, the Hancock County Planning Commission did on November 3, 1969, tentatively approve a preliminary plan of the subdivision of Jourdan River Shores, a subdivision of Hancock County, Mississippi and subject to final approval by the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission on the water distribution system and sanitary sewer system to be provided by the developers of said subdivision; and

WHEREAS, the developers of said subdivision have by their transmitted letter of May 6, 1970, presented to this Commission a revised preliminary plan for said subdivision; and

WHEREAS, the Commission deems now find and determine that the developers of Jourdan River Shores are selling or offering for sale lots in said subdivision when the plat thereof has not been approved by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi and before the filing of the plat thereof subsequent to such approval;

NOW THEREFORE, Be it resolved by the Hancock County Planning Commission that the revised plan of Jourdan River Shores be accepted for filing only, however, approval thereof is withheld.

Be it further resolved that the said developers are hereby required to comply with the subdivision regulations of Hancock County, Mississippi before selling or offering for sale any lots in said subdivision and to cease and desist from any such activity before approval of the plat of said subdivision and filing thereof.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi and the appropriate action be taken to enforce activities in violation of the subdivision regulations of Hancock County.

Ray Bantor expressed the desire to have a call meeting at the earliest convenience of the representatives of the Jourdan River Shores development in order to facilitate pending matters.

Bay Youth Injured As Autos Collide

Denise Favre, 15, and a boy-striper at Hancock General Hospital was injured Sunday morning in a two-car collision which occurred at the intersection of St. George and Bond Streets.

The accident was investigated by police officer Clyde... and Chief of Police... after the accident. Mrs. Favre, who gave this account of the accident: "Sunday morning I had been to church and was on my way home when I saw this child walking down the street in the hot sun. She was on her way to the hospital to report for duty as a Candy Stripper. I had nothing important to do and I picked her up just minutes before the accident happened. Both of the cars are pretty badly damaged. I don't know whether mine can be fixed and it is just sitting here until after the court case." Mrs. Favre stated that she was a handicapped person and worked until a couple of months ago as a nurse aide in Hancock General Hospital. She said that she was currently on leave of absence.

It luck seems to have plagued Mrs. Favre during the last several years. She was injured in an accident previously and was unable to walk for two months. On Easter Sunday she fell down the steps of her home sustaining injuries. Denise, too, has had her share of accidents. Not many weeks ago she was a passenger in an automobile and involved in an accident resulting in a fractured arm, along with cuts and abrasions.

Following Sunday's accident, Denise is said to have told her grandmother who hopes to become a Navy nurse and to be assigned to duty where she can be free of danger of automobile accidents.

Street Signs To Arrive Soon

New street name designations have been ordered for the City of Bay St. Louis, according to the Commission Council. These markers costing thousands of dollars are to be made of metal and installed on both sides of the street and the work of replacing old street signs is planned to begin with Main Street, working the streets both north and south of Main until the 71 markers are in place. Mayor Carver said these markers will not cover all the streets within the city, however, it is hoped that other markers can be made available at a later date to complete the project.

City Hall Changes Hours

Mayor Warren Carver announced today that beginning Monday, June 1, 1970, City Hall working hours would be changed. City Hall will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. What City Hall will be open Wednesday afternoon it will be closed all day Saturday.

Waveland Rebuilding

"Operation Uptown" at Waveland reports that to date $87,850.68 has been committed to contractors by eleven Waveland home owners for home improvement construction.

Flowers are not the only things springing up on Waveland lawn this month. Red, white and blue signs with the new familiar "Operation Uptown" symbol can be seen in almost every neighborhood in Waveland, and more are being put up every day.

The signs state "Assist Home Owner Who Cannot" and that means the owner of that home had the civilian personnel pride be incorporated with his program to improve his property and at the same time help make his community a better looking place in which to live.

New Traffic Controls Scheduled For U.S. 90

The signal crew of the Mississippi State Highway Department through Sidney Q. Kidd, Traffic Control and Safety Engineer, has been instructed to change directional signals at two intersections in the City of Bay St. Louis to provide protected left turns for motorists on U.S. Highway 90.

Intersections of U.S. Highway 90 at Main Street and U.S. Highway 90 at Dunbar Avenue were studied and a series of traffic counts made and it was disclosed there has been a large increase in the number of vehicles on U.S. 90 making left turns.

Engineer Kidd said: "At the intersection of U.S. 90 and Dunbar Avenue, it will be necessary to change the sign and go light to a fixed time operation and do away with the push button."

The Traffic and Planning Division of the Mississippi State Highway Department completed traffic count information on a 18 hour count basis. From 6:00 a.m. until 12:00 p.m. on April 20 at intersection of Main and Dunbar Avenue road peak traffic hours were above from 9:00 until 9:00 a.m. with a total of 1,191. The traffic dropped slightly between 9:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m. with a count of 1,064. Noon day count ran 1,988 and at the same time the dropping between the hours of 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. to 598.

During the 2:00 p.m. and through the closing count at 6:00 p.m. the count was relatively consistent averaging about 1,300 cars per hour.

Lowest count at the intersection of Dunbar Avenue and U.S. 90 made on April 23 showed between the hours of 8:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m. was 628. Peak morning hour at this location occurred between 11:00 and 12:00 noon with 929 count. Afternoon peak hour occurred between 4:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. with a count of 1,165 or an increase of 122 vehicles from the previous hour.

City Commissioner Andre Arceneaux was aware of the need for additional protection for motorists and through his requests the studies were made which have resulted in this safety measure. Date of installation of the lights has not been announced, however, it is assumed by the members of the City Council that this work will be completed in the immediate future.

OEP REIMBURSES

Commissioner Andre Arceneaux reports that the City of Bay St. Louis has sent out checks totaling $6,908.04 to reimburse Bay St. Louis in reimbursement from the Office of Emergency Preparedness for money paid for clean-up work.

Administrator of Temporary Housing in Bay St. Louis, E. C. Peterson reports that 142 trailers furnished through a different suppliers were delivered to Bay St. Louis following Hurricane Camille. Since that time 10 of the trailers were transferred to Waveland and 20 trailer occupants have now turned in their mobile homes. Most of these people are now living in their re-built or repaired homes. "These trailers served a very useful purpose," said Peterson who added they were for the most part "trouble free".

Letters are going out from the various trailer suppliers to occupants who will be given an opportunity to purchase their mobile homes should they so desire. The Camille created emergency is nearing an end. Reclamation of trailers is anticipated by September 1.

One Good Turn Deserves Another

Shortly after Hurricane Carla in 1961, the citizens of Gould, Arkansas did a good turn by raising $3,037.00 for the relief of Port O'Connor, Texas, which suffered greatly in Carla's sweep of the Texas Gulf Coast.

In November of 1961, Port O'Connor, Texas, passed on the good turn by sending $3,037.00 to Waveland for relief after Hurricane Camille.

New Waveland is passing on the good turn by putting on a campaign to raise relief funds for the tornado stricken city of Lubbock, Texas. Twenty-six people died in the storm there, over ten per cent of the 500 injured are in serious condition. 800 homes were completely destroyed and 10,000 other living units were damaged.

At the fund raiser's meeting Tuesday night it was announced that Waveland's all-out effort to raise money was progressing smoothly and that the campaign would end in a week or ten days.

Contributions to the fund may be made in the many collection jars of the area or left at the Merchants Bank in Waveland.

Boy Questions Moon Rock Display

Attention was given to a question posed by a small boy when he visited the Mississippi Test Facility and viewed the moon rock. The lad said: "What good is that old moon stuff anyway?" This question was directed to the attention of P. J. Culbertson of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington whose reply reveals that "within the last month a sample of moon soil had killed three common earth bacteria."

Dr. Gordon Zubrod, chief of the National Cancer Institute's drug investigation program, has asked for a moon soil sample to test its anti-cancer potential.

Early benefits from the space program are set forth in the Congressional Record (II 1967) and reveal that beginning in 1966 the space program developed and put into operation revolutionary new techniques for weather forecasting.

After 1969 Hurricane Camille killed 166 persons, another 68 were missing and presumed dead. Total damage is now estimated at $1.12 billion. By satellite observation, path, force and extent were predicted early and accurately enough to permit the evacuation of 70,000 people from the affected area. Without this warning, it is estimated that 70,000 people might have been killed.

Dr. Glenn Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has estimated that weather could be accurately predicted even three days in advance, man could save billions of dollars each year. Space application technologists hope to have by the end of 1970 sufficient information stations to give weather predictions two weeks in advance. Today information is obtained from 700 stations covering one-fifth of the earth's surface. This science is in its infancy. The Nimbus III satellite, launched in April 1969 relayed to earth a vertical profile of atmospheric temperature from the ground to the upper level of the atmosphere.

Graduating Seniors Honored By Council

Eighteen graduating seniors of the Gulf Coast Technical Institute were honored by the Board of Directors of the Hancock County School Board on Friday evening at the banquet held at the Gulfport Memorial Hospital. The graduates were: Bill Terry, Bill Terry, Bill Terry, and Bill Terry. They were presented with certificates and diplomas by the Board members.

The occasion, attended by Council staff members, Senior Troop Leaders, guests and Board President, Mrs. Bob Portwood, Sr., was held in the Fountain Terrace. Special guest speakers were Mrs. Bill Terry of Bay St. Louis and Mr. Sam Hall of Hattiesburg. Mrs. Terry, a former Girl Scout who attended the Round-up in Burton Bay, Vermont several years ago, is presently teaching at Bay High School. She explored the Past and Future of Girl Scouting and what it had meant to her as an individual and would mean to each of the fifteen graduating seniors. She stressed the "Many Worlds to Explore" as set forth on the first page of the Senior Scouting Handbook, as meaning getting to know yourself, other people, the wonderful beauty of the outdoors, the joys of laughter, breathing and living - and growing up to be a woman in today's world.

Mr. Sam Hall, Treasurer for the Gulf Pines Council, spoke on "Looking to the Future and What is Happiness?" He told the graduates that many feel happiness is something that is thrilling or fun -- but that these are short-lived periods of excitement; others feel it is wealth.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Velma Ruffin this month were Mrs. Ruffin's sisters, Mrs. Mae Denson and Mrs. Ethel Hart and her daughter, Earline, all of Wiggins, Mississippi.

A brazen bunch of thieves struck in broad day light in Oak Harbor last week. As of this date the thieves are still unapprehended. May the long arm of the law grasp them soon.

New officers elected at the May 12th meeting of the P.T.O. are: President Bill Howell; 1st vice president, Mrs. Ruth Davis; 2nd vice president, Gladys Barber; Secretary Lillian Lee; and Noah W. Hollis accepted the Treasury office for a second term.

Summer school at Charles B. Murphy will begin on June 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Conderman and child, Mark and Paige, are home after a weeks vacation to Sherman, Texas, visiting with the Jack Shrock family. The Shocks are former residents of Oak Harbor.

Today is the last day of school at Charles B. Murphy for the 1969-1970 session. The children will return tomorrow to receive their report cards. Graduation exercises will take place tonight in the school cafeteria.

Did you know that 100 people can be fed a full course dinner for less than $35.00. That's what the food cost was for the banquet. The total cost was $121.02 which covers cost of dinner, rent and decorations.

Firemen Plan Fair

There will be fun, food, beverages, games, and prizes when the first annual Firemen's Fair is held at the Fire Station in Bay St. Louis on Saturday, May 30th. The fair is being held to raise funds for the fire department.

Location of the fair is at the well on Highway 1 at the Fire Station. The fair will be used for the fire department maintenance and supplies. The East Hancock Volunteer Fire Department, a most worthy enterprise, is soliciting contributions for the fair.

Get well wishes go to Mrs. Al Landry, mother of Theresa McCarty and Ethel Douglas, who is in the Crosby Memorial Hospital in Piquette.

Nora Adams is at home in Belle Isle, after undergoing surgery at Mercy Hospital in New Orleans.

Waveland Notes

Nina S. Garcia --- Phone 467-4438

Stephen Paul Thompson, eldest grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Dummer residents of New Orleans, and Waveland, graduated May 25th, from Clinton L. Canus High School in New Orleans. Stephen excels in athletics, fishing and hunting and his summer holidays in Waveland with his family and grandparents are always looked forward to.

Mrs. Ada Edel called to say the Auxiliary of Veterans of World War One, of which she is a member, has loaned her a wheel chair. Now she can go to mass and get around better.

Congratulations to Warren Garcia and his sister Rose Marie, both will graduate early June. Then on June 21, Rose Marie will be wed to Charles McCarty in St. John's Catholic Church, Lakeshore.

Donna Hoeft luckily did not hit a tree during her recent accident, just ran into the ditch for which everyone is thankful.

Congratulations to former Waveland resident T. E. Lassabe, now a resident of Pass Christian and a deputy sheriff under Sheriff Patton. Mr. Lassabe has been cracking down on out of state trucks working in Pass Christian. In one day he and constable Nease, assisted by county patrolman Claude Miller of District 3, and Pass Christian Chief of Police Gerald Peralta, issued 45 citations to these trucks for having no tags, improper tags, no inspection sticker, improper and sometimes no drivers license (according to the law if you hire a man to drive your truck he needs a commercial chauffeurs' license.)

These trucks were ordered off the roads until they corrected these infractions of the law.

Don't forget the Annual Fair for raising funds for the East Hancock County Volunteer Fire department. This coming Saturday starting about 5 p.m. and Sunday, May 31 starting at 11 a.m. just this side of entrance to Bay Side Park on Highway 90.

The newly formed Dixie Rescue Service had a Turkey Shoot and fried chicken dinner this past Sunday, at the Newman Ranch, up at Leetown. Persons interested in joining this Rescue Service should contact Paul Newman 798-1400 or L. E. Hoda at 864-5794. This Volunteer group will operate from New Orleans to Mobile.

Congratulations to St. Stanislaus Faculty members who will celebrate their 50th anniversary as members of The Sacred Heart this month. Brothers Martin and Athanasius have 50 years behind them while Brother Lee and Noel will celebrate their 25th anniversary. A special mass for the Brothers was held May 1st, with recognition from members of the student body.

My grandson John Morris a boarding student at St. Stanislaus has returned for the summer holidays.

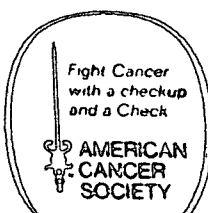

Final notice for Waveland residents to re-register has been published in the Echo. In order to vote in the November elections one must be registered at least 4 months prior to these elections.

It is with deep regret we must say goodbye to Dr. Henry Maggio, who is leaving his practice in General medicine to go to Louisiana State University School of Medicine in New Orleans for a three year residency training program in psychiatry.

Doctor Maggio and Mrs. Maggio had a lovely old home on the beach before Camille. They are now renting, and Mrs. Maggio and the children will remain in Waveland for the present. Good luck from all your friends.

Did you know that the Crocus is the first flower to bid adieu to winter? Sometimes, long before the last snow has completely vanished the lonely crocus will be seen peeping thru, popping its delicate head above ground. Heralding the arrival of spring the Crocus is a harbinger of the floral beauty that awakens across the land. How fragile is the Crocus, and yet a symbol strong and true to prove that although seeming dead, all life is born anew! (This bit of info about the Crocus was sent to me by Mrs. Mrs. Louis Dummer.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Dacher of Waveland had as their guest recently Mrs. Patricia Bourgeois of New Orleans, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Dacher. While here they attended the graduation exercises of the Gulf View School where a niece was in the graduation class. Mrs. Bourgeois will return to Waveland on Friday for a two week vacation.

Clean-Up Figures Released By Corps

Progress is being made in the processing of applications for reimbursement to private property owners for costs incurred in removing Hurricane Camille debris. Major Arthur S. Baxter, Jr., Area Engineer for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, has announced that over 2,000 applications have been processed to date and the checks issued to city and county representatives.

Major Baxter stated that in order to obtain sufficient evidence to validate a claim, a representative of the Corps of Engineers, working under assignment of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, usually visits the property, contacts the applicant and meets with the contractor who performed the work. If found eligible, the application is then sent to OEP with a recommendation for reimbursement. Applications are normally submitted to OEP in groups of twenty-five for approval and a check is written to the city or county for the total amount. It then becomes the responsibility of the city or county to write individual checks to each applicant for the approved amount of reimbursement.

Reimbursements have been made to city and county representatives in the following amounts: Bay St. Louis, $20,000.00; Biloxi, $23,168.37; Collins, $362; Forrest County, $112; George County, $249; Gulfport, $22,599.34; Hancock County, $10,447.90; Harrison County, $26,085.01; Hattiesburg, $4,307.10; Jackson County, $31,360.25; Long Beach, $4,807.78; Lumberton, $645.75; Moss Point, $28,597.95; Mt. Olive, $51; Ocean Springs, $13,894.70; Pascagoula, $14,752.09; Pass Christian, $24,330.42; Pearl River County, $215; Piquette, $750.06; Purvis, $970.25; Seminary, $300; Stone County, $1,117.00; Sunrail, $2,262.78; Waveland, $5,541.75; Wiggins, $439; all for a total of $228,176.30.

According to Major Baxter, the remaining number of applications is expected to be completed by the first of August.

MRS. RONALD BRELAND

Caruso-Breland Vows Exchanged At St. Mary's

St. Mary's Italian Church in New Orleans was the setting for the recent wedding of Miss Sheila Ann Caruso and Mr. Ronald Eugene Breland. The Rev. Fr. Vincent Liberto, O.M.I., officiated at the candle-light evening ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Caruso of New Orleans. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Breland of Pearl-Lington, Miss.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory silk organza fashioned with a high neckline and Bishop sleeves. The bodice, along the front and around the full train of the gown were appliqued with re-embroidered alencon lace and beading. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a band of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of cream sweetheart roses, stephanotis, and Baby Breeze.

Miss Sandra Ann Stenge of New Orleans served as honor attendant. The bridesmaids, all of New Orleans, were Misses Sandra Bird, Kathy Christmann, and Donna Farrans.

They wore gowns of aqua silk chiffon fashioned with mandarin necklines and long sleeves. White cotton lace was applied on the bodices and sleeve cuffs of the gowns. They carried colonial bouquets of pink sweetheart roses, baby aqua carnations and baby Breeze.

Misses Deborah Ann and Andrea Paula Caruso, cousins of the bride, were the flower girls. They wore gowns and carried nosegays similar to those of the bridesmaids.

THREE MILLIONTH SAFEMARK TIRE WAS PRODUCED YESTERDAY AT WACO, TEXAS.

Six years after the first SAFEMARK tire was produced especially for Farm Bureau members at General Tire and Rubber Company's Waco, Texas, plant, the three millionth tire came through the molds and proceeded this week, as AFBF president Charles B. Shuman witnessed the event. And, according to the present sales pace at Farm Bureau dealers, across the land, sales for 1970 alone are expected to reach one million units, according to AFBF sources.

As the three millionth tire came off the production line an exciting new SAFEMARK tire was being produced in volume--a new low profile, four-ply, polyester cord plus two fiber glass belt model that is considered one of the toughest, softest-riding tires available on the market today. The new tire has dual stripe sidewall design with a tread pattern featuring an exclusive seven-rib design incorporating 4,367 full depth traction stripes.

Punctures and blow-outs have been minimized by the new tire which utilizes chlorobutyl liners to hold onto any sharp object that might penetrate its plys. Any air loss that might occur will be in the form of a slow leak, the manufacturers say.

Mr. Mark Breland served as ring bearer. He is a cousin of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Lenfant's Boulevard Room in New Orleans.

The couple will be at home in New Orleans at 5570 Pasteur Blvd. following their wedding trip to Florida.
